Individual Membership

I would like to join the INTERNATIONAL DIGITAL LIFE ALLIANCE, together with all members, to foster international exchange and collaboration in digital life sciences, advance the understanding and value of the field, and leverage artificial intelligence to propel life science research. Our shared vision is to enable the digital simulation of life, accelerate scientific and academic breakthroughs, and shape the future of digital life technologies—ultimately driving a transformative shift in life science research in service of sustainable development for all humanity.

“International Digital Life Alliance” is the provisional name of the international organization to be established. If the name of the organization to be established are adjusted, it shall also be regarded as agreeing to join.
